Synod Appropriates $200,000 Toward Fund for Moving NEWPORT BAPTISTS GET University From Clarksville

The voting of $200,000 by the Alabama Synod to remove to Memphis the Southwestern Presbyterian university now at Clarksville, Tenn., has started the ball rolling for the $1,500,000 endowment fund necessary for the change, the ball rolling for the $1,500,000 endowment fund necessary for the change, according to word received by S. W. Bredill, campaign manager, with head-quarters in the Memphis Chamber of Commerce. The Alabama synod met at Birmingham hast week and the large sum voted was commensurate with the enthusiasm rampant over the prospects in store for the college when the move is completed, deciared Manager MPGill.

The rolling ball will be given added impetus, judging from other indications, at the meetings next week of the three remaining state synods controlling the university—Tennessee. Mississippi and Louisiana. The meetings will be held at Nashville, Jackson and New Orleans respectively, to piedge the remaining $800,000 of the $1,000,000 sought from outside of Merophis. The amount may be oversunscribed, officials of the campaign state, as the project has found as great favor throughout the three other states as in Tennessee.

Besides the lump sum contribution, the Alabama synod agreed to continue its minual endowment to the college, which in past years has been $5,000. This probably will be increased voluntarily at the next synod meeting next year.

Manager McGill, with the assistance of B. A. Bogy, chairman, and L. C. Humes, secretary-treasurer, respectively, of the fund as appointed by the Memphis Chamber of Commerce, is rapidly completing pans for the drive for $500,000 within Memphis proper from October 8 to 19, for the bringing of the college to Memphis. The Chamber of Commerce is enthusiastically supporting the project, having appointed an executive committee of 15 business men to work with Messrs. McGill, Bogy and Humes.

The method of obtaining the money has not yet been settled upon, Manager McGill states, but the entire city, including churches and business men acontribution.

"The reinoval of the Southwestern Presbylerian university to Memphis will as well, will be called upon for a contribution.

"The removal of the Southwestern Presbylterian university to Memphis will mean the first Class A, literary college to be established in this city, and will result in infinite value to Memphis," declared McGill Tuesday, in discussing the project.

"Young men from all over the Mississippi valley will attend, the city will be given an invaluable advertising medium and large amounts of money will necessarily be speat in connection with the establishment and operation of the university. Memphis needs a Class A college of this kind and must have it to keep up with her sister cities of Atlanta, Birmingham and Nashville, all of which have from three to eight Class A colleges within a ridius of 100 miles or so."
